

Let's Write a Window Poem

Where will your window poem take you?

PRE-WRITING Think of a window, real or imaginary. If it helps, draw your window on a piece of paper.

- Are you looking in or looking out? _____
- Is the window open or closed? _____
- What do you see? _____

- What do you hear? _____

- Do you feel or smell anything through the window? If so, what? _____

- What do you wonder? _____

- What do you hope or wish? _____

FIRST DRAFT If it helps, use this as a guide to write your first draft.

Through the window I see/hear/feel/smell

Through the window I see/hear/feel/smell

Through the window I see/hear/feel/smell

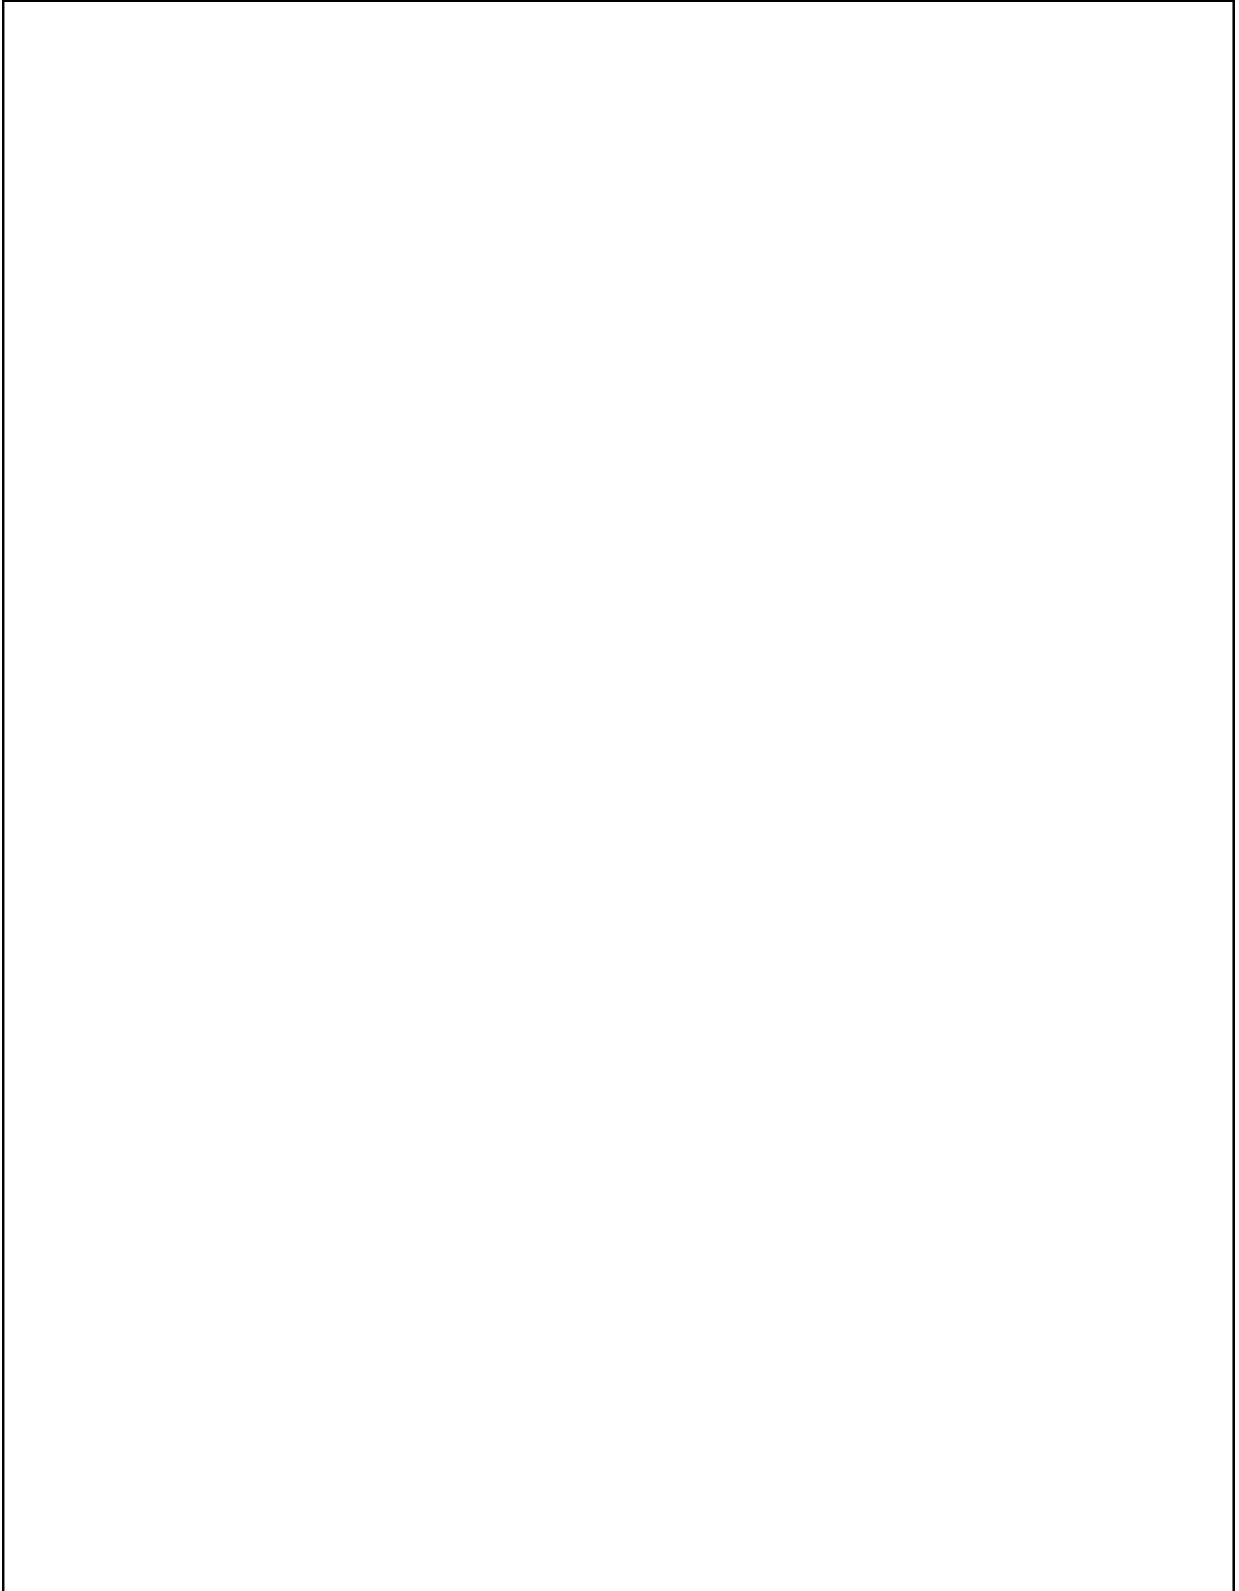

I wonder/hope

(Try to think of a way to end your poem that reminds you of the beginning.)

NEXT The following page is for a published version of your poem. You may choose to format it into a window shape, with as many panes as you'd like, and illustrate it.
